

5 O'clock Edition!

FURIOUS FLAMES.

Counties Devastated
With Fire.

BELGIANS WARN BOULANGER.

The Portuguese Panic is Not Political.

Decrees of Insurgents Signed
By the Dead.

Forest Fires.

By Associated Press.
BALDWIN (Mich.), May 13.—The forest fires are not yet under control. Thompsonville is threatened, but the citizens are doing everything possible to prevent the town from burning. The towns along the line of the Frankfort & Southeastern are in danger from fires, which are reported along the entire road. The fires west of Manistee Junction are out and no more danger is feared in that direction. Numbers of people from the burned districts have asked the railroad companies for transportation to places where they have friends, as they were not able to save more than the clothing they wore.

BIG RAPIDS (Mich.), May 13.—At Big Rapids, three miles from here, a tract six miles long and three miles wide has been burned over.

DETROIT, May 13.—Clinton, Claire county, and Walkerville, Oceana county, towns of 1,000 inhabitants each, are added to the list of those burned by forest fires. In each case the destruction of the homes of the inhabitants was accompanied by a heavy loss to the lumber firms having saw mills at the places named. The loss to these firms on buildings and machinery amounts to over $100,000. In addition to this the amount is not easily reckoned that was lost in the destruction of the forests. At present there is little hope that the fire can soon be staid, and the entire lumber district of four or five counties lies at its mercy. There has been little rain this season and the country was in the same condition as when devastated in 1871.

ASHBURY PARK (N. J.), May 13.—A big fire started to-day in the pine woods of Ashbury Park and is spreading rapidly towards West Elberon and Long Branch.

Decrees of the Dead.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 13.—A cable to Flint & Co. from Valparaiso states that several directors of the revolution whose names recently appeared, affixed to so-called decrees and manifestos of the insurgents given out from Paris, are known to have gone down with the war-ship Blanco Encalada nearly a month ago. There is indignation and amusement in Chili over the restorations.

The Grand Jury to-day found indictments against Harris, a young medical student, charging him with murdering his wife by giving her morphine.

Portuguese Panic.

By Cable and Associated Press.
PARIS, May 13.—In an interview to-day a member of the Portuguese Legation of this city declared the present crisis in Portugal is of a purely financial nature, and that political sentiment had nothing to do with it. The Republicans in Portugal are losing ground, owing to their disastrous efforts to establish a republic in Brazil and they have not a single man capable of directing the revolution.

Florida Indignant.

By Associated Press.
INFLERACHEN (Fla.), May 13.—The Florida Horticultural Society, now in annual session here, has passed resolutions expressing the greatest indignation of its members over the recent appointment of Walter Maxwell of California as Superintendent of the Horticultural Department of the World's Fair, and protesting strongly against his confirmation by the Board of Directors.

Weather Report.

By Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—Forecast, light rains in Western Nevada and extreme southeast portion of northern California; also at Los Angeles and vicinity.

Defaulter Sentenced.

By Associated Press.
CHIPPWA FALLS (Wis.), May 13.—Judge Marshall sentenced Serley, Chippewa county's defaulting Treasurer to four years at Waupun.

Derby Day in Kentucky.

By Associated Press.
LOUISVILLE, May 13.—This is Derby day, and although it is not down on the calendar as a legal holiday, it was observed as such by Kentuckians, and many visitors are here. The State Democratic Convention had more delegates at the track than in the city. Business almost all over the city was closed up and everybody who could do so took an outing at the race track. Twenty thousand or more people were present. The starters in the Derby and their riders were as follows: Kingman, Murphy; Balgown, Overton; Georgetown, Kilre; Valleria, Britton; Hart Wallace, High Tariff. The weather broke cold and threatening, but shortly before noon the black clouds gave way to warm sunshine, and when the bugle called the contestants to the post for the inaugural race, the stands, lawn, betting ring and field were filled with an eager, pushing crowd. The track is fast. Kingman wins the Derby, Balgown second and High Tariff third.

Robert and Minnie Case.

Special to the GAZETTE.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—This morning United States Marshal Long received a dispatch from United States Marshal Gard of the Southern District, instructing him to subpoena Harry U. Morse of the detective agency and have him leave at once for Los Angeles, where the Grand Jury is awaiting his testimony in the case of the schooner Robert and Minnie, seized for violation of the neutrality laws. Morse went south in the interest of the government, and was with Marshal Gard when the schooner escaped into Mexican water, although the license of Captain Farrell, her master, explicitly limits the waters in which the schooner is allowed to ply to the coast waters of California.

English Influenza.

By Cable and Associated Press.
LONDON, May 13.—The deaths from influenza in this city during the past week number 148, an excess of 21 over the highest death rates in the epidemic of 1890. The death from lung diseases reached a total of 584, 240 in excess of the average rate. Sir John Lubbeck and Mr. Borden's Courts are down with the disease. All the eminent patients are doing well. It is expected that Mr. Gladstone will go to Hawarden on Saturday. The fumigation of the Parliament building has commenced. Joseph Chamberlain and Lord Hartington are down with influenza. Gladstone is progressing favorably.

Rejoicing Russians.

By Cable and Associated Press.
ST. PETERSBURG, May 13.—Newspapers of this city warmly praise the gallantry of Prince George of Greece, companion of the Czarowitz in his travels, who felled the latter's assailant at Otsu, Japan to the ground by hitting him over the head with a heavy walking stick and thus preventing the fanatic from inflicting a second and possibly more severe wound. News of the danger in which the Czarowitz was placed created much excitement throughout this city and there was great rejoicing when it was announced he was not dangerously wounded.

Blaine is Better.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 13.—Secretary Blaine is resting comfortably this morning. It is decided that he will remain in this city for the balance of the week before returning to Washington.

About fifty members of the Millers' National Association left this morning for Europe, where they will visit the various marts of trade of the various countries, and expect to be gone two months.

Dixon Sentenced.

Special to the GAZETTE.
SUSANVILLE, May 13.—Counsel for Elery Dixon, editor of the Lassen Advocate, who had a lengthy trial on a charge of stealing horses which he sent at the time to Oregon and sold, applied for a new trial, alleging the discovery of new evidence and misconduct of the jury. The Court, however, denied the appeal and sentenced Dixon to seven years' imprisonment at San Quentin.

Arbitration.

By Cable and Associated Press.
PARIS, May 13.—The Secole to-day says in spite of the rupture in negotiations between President Balmaceda and the congressional party of Chili, France, the United States and Brazil, intend to fulfill the task of arbitrating the matters in dispute between the two contending factions. The Secole adds, this task will be undertaken with every prospect of success.

Poisoned.

Special to the GAZETTE.
PALERMO (Cal.), May 13.—John P. Cummings died last night from the effect of poison, by drinking a photographic chemical solution found in a bottle in a field while at work, supposed to be whisky. Richard Shelan was also poisoned, but recovered.

Heavy Failure.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 13.—Levy Bros. & Co., wholesale clothing manufacturers, were closed up by the Sheriff yesterday under eight writs of attachment aggregating $150,000. Augustus Levy, one of the partners in the firm, is pronounced hopelessly insane as a result. To-day five additional judgments aggregating $38,000 were filed against the firm. Affidavits upon which the writs of attachment were granted declare the firm had within two years past made unlawful conversion of its funds to the amount of over $100,000, and that such payments were made with the intent to defraud its creditors. Affidavits also set forth that an investigation of the firm, made within the last three days, showed an apparent deficit within less than six months of over $650,000. The estimated liabilities will be at least $750,000 and may be a million more. It is said the assets will not realize half a million.

Czarowitz.

By Cable and Associated Press.
PARIS, May 13.—An official dispatch received here to-day from Tokyo, Japan, says the Czarowitz had landed at Otsu. Shortly after, a policeman named Thuda Sanso, belonging to a sect noted for fanatical hostilities to foreigners, approached the heir to the Russian throne and dealt him a sabre cut across the head. Owing to the thickness of sun helmet worn by the Czarowitz, the sabre only inflicted a wound three inches in length and did not penetrate deeply. Before the policeman could renew his attack, he was overpowered and placed in confinement. The wound inflicted upon the Czarowitz was promptly dressed and the imperial traveler left Otsu by special train for Kioto.

Chicago Markets.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 13.—Wheat—Firm; cash, 106½@107; July, 102½. Corn—Steady; cash, 65½; July, 59½; May, 64. Oats—Firm; cash, 52; July, 46½. Barley—Nominal. Pork—Steady; cash, 11 37½; July, 60. Lard—Steady; cash, 6 45; July, 62½.

Woman's Convention.

By Associated Press.
PITTSBURG, May 13.—The eighth annual convention of the Women's General Missionary Society of the United Presbyterian Church of America was called to order this morning with delegates from all parts of the country. The session was devoted to routine business.

Seared to Death.

By Cable and Associated Press.
MOSCOW, May 13.—A correspondent of the News says the stories of expelled Jews being maltreated is exaggerated, the Jews being too inoffensive and too badly terrified to attempt to make their escape.

Medical Society.

Special to the GAZETTE.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—The fifteenth annual convention of the California Medical Society (homeopathic) opened to-day and the President, H. C. French, delivered his address.

TELEGRAPHIC BREVITIES.

In Buenos Ayres gold closed to-day at 272 premium. Thirty-five hundred weavers at Ghent, Belgium, have struck.

At Berlin it is reported that Von Maybach, Minister of public works, has resigned.

Prof. Bequerel, the well-known French physicist and author died to-day in Paris.

Silver amounting to 144,000 ounces purchased to-day at prices ranging from .9795 to .98.

At Lisbon at 6:30 P. M. the financial situation was easier. The country is perfectly tranquil.

At New York a judgment for $40,000 was filed to-day against the New York Ice & Cold Storage Co.

News has reached the City of Mexico from Honduras that the rebels of that country have been dispersed.

At St. Petersburg the Novoe Vremya demands that Rothschild's power in the petroleum region be curtailed.

Three thousand Jews are in deep distress at Corin. Barons Rothschild and Hirsch are sending them relief.

From London it is learned that there are now seventy members of the Commons suffering from influenza.

The Branchville Milling Co., doing business at Branchville, Conn., made an assignment to-day without preferences.

The Belgian government threatens to expel General Boulanger from the country unless he is silent on political matters.

The Salvadoran government has named a committee to make preparations for its exhibit at the World's Fair at Chicago.

A St. Petersburg correspondent of the Cologian Gazette telegraphs that all Jews are being expelled from beyond the Caspian.

The chief of the bureau of statistics reports the total value of exports of domestic products from the United States during the month of April, 1891, at $12,373,827.

THROUGH NEBRASKA.

President Welcomed
Everywhere.

ACROSS THE MISSOURI TO-DAY.

Due in Washington on Friday Next.

Continual Overtures for Over Three Weeks.

President in Nebraska.

By Associated Press.
LINCOLN (Nebr.), May 13.—The Presidential train entered this State an early hour morning. The first stop made was at Hastings at 6:30 o'clock. A large crowd, including Grand Army men, civic societies and school children greeted the President with applause as he was introduced. The President addressed those assembled, thanking them for their early welcome and expressed himself gratified at everything he saw. The President was the only one of the travelers out of bed at Hastings. The visitors were given a cordial reception at Fairmont and Crete, and the President made a short speech at each place. Governor Thayer, Lieutenant Governor Majors and all the State officers joined the visitors at Crete and welcomed them to the State. The travelers arrived at Lincoln at 9 o'clock promptly on schedule time and received a most cordial welcome. The local militia, Grand Army men, University cadets, Young Men's Republican Club and two thousand school children formed in procession and escorted the visitors to the Capitol where the formal ceremonies took place. An address of welcome was made by Governor Thayer and the Mayor of Lincoln. Appropriate responses were made by the President, Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The city was handsomely decorated for the occasion and business was entirely suspended during the ceremonies, which lasted an hour. The mail carriers of the city were mounted and acted as a special escort to the Postmaster General during the parade. Just before leaving the President received a large delegation from Omaha. They preceded him in a special train to Omaha.

OMAHA, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

WOO HOO, May 13.—People turned out en masse to welcome the President when he arrived here. Decorations, which were very elaborate and artistic, covered the public and private buildings, and the stand where the speeches were made was covered profusely with red, white and blue. The visitors were met at the station by a large committee of citizens and escorted by the second regiment U. S. infantry and Omaha Guards to the stand at the Court House. A salute was fired by the battery as the President appeared. People cheered enthusiastically as the President rose to speak, after listening to the address of welcome. He was followed by the Postmaster General and Secretary of Agriculture. The visitors then held a reception in the rotunda of the Post-office building, where the President shook hands with several thousand persons. The reception was followed by a drive over the principal part of the city. The guests then took lunch at the residence of ex-Senator Saunders.

Odd Fellows Grand Lodge.

Special to the GAZETTE.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—The Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows re-assembled at 10 A. M. to-day. The report of the Finance Committee on finances of the Grand Lodge was adopted. The following decisions of the Committee on Appeals were approved, affirming action of lodges in cases of C. B. Cutting vs. Mountain Brow Lodge No. 82, and W. J. Withers vs. Truth Lodge No. 55, and dismissing the appeal in the case of A. D. Scott vs. Spring Valley Lodge No. 316. The Committee on Legislation reported the following amendment to the constitution of subordinates:

SECTION 11. "No member shall be put to trial for any offense committed against the laws of Odd Fellowship unless the charges shall have been preferred within two years from date of the offense, provided the charges may be preferred at any time within two years after the first discovery of any such offense."

This caused a long discussion.

High License Agitation.

Special to the GAZETTE.
SAN FRANCISCO, May 13.—The license and order committees of the Board of Supervisors met again this morning to hear argument of those in favor and against high license. A large number were present,

